My colleagues (long-standing JRules experts both!) Jerome Boyer and Hafedh Mili have published an excellent book on business rules development in general, and JRules in particular. It weighs in at over pages and is packed with useful hard-won information culled from running years of customer PS engagements and training sessions. Business rules are everywhere. Every enterprise process, task, activity, or function is governed by rules. However, some of these rules are implicit and thus poorly enforced, others are written but not enforced, and still others are perhaps poorly written and obscurely enforced.
